Conco Industrial Services Reports Record-Breaking Growth and Revenues

Deer Park, Texas (December 5, 2013) Jason Wilburn, General Manager of Conco Industrial Services (CIS), is pleased to announce record-breaking growth and revenues over the past three years. Since 2011, CIS has grown 91%. It expanded its geographic reach to include the West Coast with an office in southern California, and it has upgraded its equipment while maintaining a Total Recordable Incidence Rate of zero. CIS believes in doing its jobs with speed, while being safe and keeping the crew small.

The growth has been substantial in the Gulf Coast Region, where there is a great need for tube cleaning services. The success of CIS can also be attributed to the fact that Conco is the only company that uses a TruFit Tube Cleaning System; a system that provides safe water pressure to give the tubes an exceptional clean. It's the only company with the technology to target opportunities where water is not an option and/or equipment is a critical path. CIS also offers nondestructive testing services, and that portion of the division is expected to grow 50% next year, according to Wilburn.

Conco Industrial Services offers petrochemical customers advanced technology-based cleaning and certified nondestructive testing services. These services work in concert to provide customers with "absolutely the best" method for maintaining their heat exchangers and other industrial equipment while minimizing downtime.
