

For Immediate Release 9 a.m. EST
August 23, 2009

Conco to Sponsor Condenser Life Cycle Seminar

New Annual Seminar Focuses on Steam Surface Condensers

PITTSBURGH — August 23, 2010 — Conco Systems is pleased to announce its sponsorship of the first annual Condenser Life Cycle Seminar to be held on the campus of the Georgia Institute of Technology in Atlanta next month, September 13-15, 2010. “The seminar is the don’t miss event for 2010 for condenser related solutions and best-practices throughout the life cycle of power plant condensers” says Eric Fayard, Marketing Manager for Conco Systems. “Attendees to the event will gain unfettered access to technical experts across a wide variety of fields with real-world answers to their toughest questions, and will leave this event better equipped to maintain optimal efficiency and availability for their plant’s condenser.”

The seminar is planned to be an annual event, hosted and presented by condenser experts from Conco Systems, Plastocor, Plymouth Tube, and Retubeco.

About Conco Systems

Founded in 1923, Conco is the world’s leading provider of Total Condenser Performance™ services to the power generation industry with offices located in the US, Europe and Asia Pacific.

For more information:

(Eric H. Fayard), (800-345-3476), (eric@concosystems.net)

For more information on Conco Systems: <http://www.concosystems.com>

###